Announcements
We are authorized to announce WILLIAM BRYCE as a candidate for Councilman from East End ward, subject to the action of the Democratic party.
We are authorized to announce ALEX. MAUPIN as a candidate for Councilman from West End ward, subject to the action of the Democratic party.
We are authorized to announce ANSEL D. MILLER as a candidate for Councilman from East End ward, subject to the action of the Democratic party.
The papers all over the state seem to be puzzled as to what Editor J. M. Allen, of the Cincinnati Democrat, meant when he published an account of an Indiana Editor's wife attacking his pretty stenographer and throwing her through a stained glass window, after "thank goodness there are some fly specked windows here." We would like to inform our brothers that Editor Allen enjoys the reveries of a bachelor and the fullest extent of no matter how many pretty stenographers he should have, there would be no unwelcome interference and no broken windows at his sanctum.

McCREARY ON POLITICS.
Says Kentucky Will Give Big Majority to Democrats.
(Washington Post.)
For years Hon. James B. McCreary, of Kentucky, former governor, long time Representative, and present United States Senator from the Blue Grass State, has been reckoned among the wisest and most conservative of the leaders of the Democratic party. A Post reporter, meeting the Senator at the New Windsor hotel, asked him an expression of his views, both as to the situation in his own Commonwealth and in the nation. In response to this request, Mr. McCreary said: "Democrats in Kentucky are satisfied with the Republican ticket recently nominated at the Louisville convention. It is believed by well informed men that the ticket is not strong or popular. The Republican candidate for governor, Col. Morris Barkup is a nice, polished gentleman, but he is not in touch with the people and never aspired before to be a Republican leader. He never made a speech in a political campaign and was never elevated to any office by the people."
SETBACK TO OLD LEADERS.
"The old Republican leaders, ex-Gov. Bradley, Attorney General Pratt and Col. Wilson, who have been carrying the flag of their party for a quarter of a century, and the best two of whom held two of the highest offices in Kentucky, were slumped in the face at the Republican State convention and sent to the rear. Pratt and Wilson were openly candidates for the nomination for governor, and Bradley was voted for a period of six years, but he lost many votes as all of them together, and was nominated on the first ballot. "The methods by which the delegates to the convention were selected were severely criticized by Bradley, Pratt and Wilson in their speeches, but this was no difference. Bradley received the nomination, Barkup the nomination, and the Republican party the cold bath. The outlook indicates that Col. Barkup will be permitted to continue to look after his hardware store in Louisville and not be required to go into training for the responsible and important duties of chief executive. "The Democrats of Kentucky will elect their whole State ticket by not less than 20,000 majority. A meeting of the State central committee and of prominent Democrats from various parts of the State was held a few days ago and a campaign committee was selected."
THE NATIONAL OUTLOOK.
"What are the Democrats of Kentucky saying about the Presidential contest of 1904?"
"The Democrats of Kentucky are beginning to discuss both the platform and the candidates of the next Presidential campaign. They know that for a period of six years, beginning with Thomas Jefferson in 1801, out of fifteen administrations there were only two which were not Democratic. Six of these Presidential terms were filled by Jefferson, Madison, and Monroe, the three founders of the Republic. During these sixty years, the Republic moved forward in the path of progress and prosperity, and laid the foundation of the wonderful success, the matchless development, the unsurpassed wealth, the unequalled achievements in every line of business and in every field of greatness that has made it a world of nations of the earth."
"The Democratic party was its victory, covering nearly three-fourths of the last century, on the conservative policies set forth in the cardinal principles of the Democratic party as enunciated by Jefferson, Madison, and Monroe, and the Democratic party was the public expenditures, just taxation, equal rights to all, and special privileges to none."
TIME HONORED POLICIES OF THE PAST.
"Democrats should reaffirm the time honored policies of the past, which the people loved and under which Democrats were victorious and gave to our country progress and prosperity for so many years."
The ratification of the Cuban reciprocity treaty at the extraordinary session of the Senate, held in extra session at the call of the President, the Democrats providing it should not take effect until approved by the House will cause a great and interesting discussion of the tariff. It was announced by Senators who are intimate friends of the President that the House will call on extra session early in November, and this will help to precipitate a great tariff debate.
Senator Arthur P. Gorman and Judge Alton B. Parker are the Democratic spokesmen of the Kentucky for the nomination for President, and Gorman seems to be the favorite."

RELIGIOUS.
The park Hill Camp meeting will be held on August 7th, by Dr. V. T. Hollingsworth.
Rev. G. W. Shepherd, of Cleveland, Tenn., will begin a protracted meeting at Newby next Sunday.
MATRIMONIAL.
YATES-BERRYMAN.—Miss Clara D. Loyd, of Mason county, and Mr. Charles O. Yates, of Omaha, Nebraska, will be married in September. The bride is remembered here, having attended Madison Institute a number of years ago, and is a sister to Miss Alice Loyd, who was principal of the above named school for several years.
KINARD-BURDET.—Mr. Jesse Kinard, son of ex-Police Judge H. C. Kinard, and Miss Lotta Burdett, both of Frankfort, will be married at the Methodist Church, College Hill, Thursday, Rev. Sturgill officiating. Mr. Kinard is a traveling salesman, and his bride is the accomplished daughter of William Burdett. The CLIMAX joins a host of friends in extending congratulations.
HUNT-GROVE.—The marriage of Prof. I. C. Hunt and Miss Lucy Grove will be solemnized to-night at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Grove, on Oak street. The ceremony will be held by Rev. William Grove, of Frankfort. The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Grove, and is a general favorite with old and young alike. Her bright, sunny nature endears her to all, and she will be missed by a large circle of friends and admirers. Especially will her close friends miss her, for she is one of the strongest workers, and the choir will lose one of its sweetest singers. The groom is a young man where he taught, two years ago, in Walter's Institute. He is a native of Virginia and a typical southern gentleman. He is at present conducting a flourishing school at Shelbyville. While here, Prof. Hunt made many friends, who congratulate him upon having so excellent a young lady for his life companion. Professor and Mrs. Hunt will take a short wedding trip after which they will be at home in Shelbyville, where they will be a valuable addition to the social, religious and business features of that city. The very best wishes of hosts of friends follow them, and it is a joy to join in with heartfelt congratulations.
LANCASTER-PIGG.—Friends here will be surprised to learn of the marriage of Miss Belle Pigg and Mr. John Lancaster, both of Lexington. The young people have been sweethearts for quite a while, but their marriage came as a surprise to their families, so well did they guard their secret. They were married on last Monday in Georgetown at the home of the minister, after which they returned to Lexington. The bride is the daughter of Mr. Henry Pigg and is well known here, having been formerly resided. She is an attractive brunette and is a talented musician, having won her way to reputation as such in Lexington and surrounding towns. She has been for several years one of the young teachers in the Lexington Conservatory of Music. Mr. Lancaster is a native of Lexington and is a young man of business and social standing. He is at present a clerk for Bassett & Sons. The CLIMAX extends hearty congratulations to Mr. Lancaster and his bride and wishes them all the happiness possible in this life.

DEATHS.
RICHMOND.—Mr. John B. Richmond died at Ewing, Virginia, on last Friday of typhoid fever. Mr. Richmond leaves a young wife, who was formerly Miss Annie Bales, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Terrill, this county. In her bereavement she has the deepest sympathy of many friends.
SMITH.—Yesterday morning about nine o'clock the soul of Mr. William Smith winged its flight back to its Maker. Deceased would have been eighty years old had he lived until the fourth of this month. His death was not unexpected, as he had been in very feeble health for a long time, not even being able, for months past, to leave his room. In his death Richmond loses one of her oldest and most respected citizens. He was a life-long member of the Episcopal church, and lived squarely and honestly with all men. This afternoon at two o'clock his interment will take place in the Richmond cemetery. There will be a short service at the grave, conducted by Rev. Amos Smith, of the Episcopal church. Two sons, Messrs. Claude and William Smith, are left to mourn the loss of their venerable father, and in their bereavement they have the deep sympathy of all.

Sunday Schools of Madison County.
The Sunday schools of Madison County, of all denominations or of no denomination organized into a county association, held the annual convention at Kirksville, Saturday last. The attendance was good the weather fine. The dinner abundant and the exercises inspiring. The society officers elected to serve during the calendar year 1904, were as follows:
President, W. L. Crutcher, Richmond; Vice-President, C. R. Boucher, Richmond; Secretary and Treasurer, Miss Belle Brock, Richmond.
The present officers are to continue until January 1, as follows:
President, L. V. Dodge, Berea, Vice President, V. H. Hobson, Richmond, Secretary and Treasurer, E. Deatherage, Richmond.
The following have been elected as officers for the several magisterial districts, to serve until the time of holding conventions in 1904:
RICHMOND.
President, R. S. Hutchison, Vice President, C. R. Boucher, Secretary, G. P. Grinstead.
FOXWORTH.
President, John W. Shearer, Vice President, Gordon Burgin, Secretary, Shelby Masters.
UNION.
President, John L. Griggs, Vice President, Charles L. Tipton, Secretary, E. F. Benton.
ELLISTON.
President, Geo. W. Tribble, Vice President, Dillard Fielder, Secretary, N. C. Bonny.
YATES.
President, J. L. Carpenter, Vice President, G. A. Coker, Secretary, Miss M. Adella Fox.
GLADE.
President, E. W. Baker, Vice Pres., Blevins P. Allen, Secretary, Miss Carrie D. Woods.
KIRKSVILLE.
President, James Dawson, Vice President, Reuben Baker, Secretary, Mrs. Wm. Arhuckle.
MILLON.
President, C. F. Brock, Vice President, J. W. Prather, Secretary, Wm. Jenkins.
The three general officers for the county, together with the Presidents of the several magisterial districts, constitute the Executive Committee for the county. Madison has fulfilled most of the conditions for remaining in the column of banner counties for the current year. It is ever necessary that a few lacking reports of schools be secured. Let all schools that have not yet reported send to their district reporter or to Mr. E. Deatherage of Richmond, the name and address of superintendent, number of officers and teachers, total enrollment, average attendance, number of months in session and other facts of interest. A contribution to the State work is also solicited. Let us see to it that old Madison remains in the front rank, and that the officers for 1904 are loyally supported.
There should be a large delegation at the great State convention, Lexington, August 18, 19 and 20. One fare plus 25 cents pays for the round trip. Entertainment free upon paying one dollar. Send name and address to O. E. Hannan, Lexington. Schools entitled to most delegates for every 100 members or fraction thereof. Secure credentials from Mr. E. Deatherage or the undersigned. All ordained ministers entitled to admission. Credentials necessary; get them soon.
L. V. DODGE, County President.
